

To Whom It May Concern,

I am writing to strongly recommend my long-time domestic helper, Juliet Borje Labog, who has been working for my family in Hong Kong for the past 32 years.

During this time, she has proven herself to be exceptionally hardworking, trustworthy, and dedicated. Juliet has taken outstanding care of my two sons since they were babies, treating them with genuine affection and patience.

She also manages all household duties- including cleaning, laundry, ironing and cooking, with great diligence and attention to detail. Her work has always been thorough and consistent, never careless.

Beyond her excellent work performance, Juliet is an honest and responsible person with a cheerful personality.

After more than three decades of loyal service, we regard her not only as an employee but as a trusted and valued member of our family. I highly recommend Juliet to any future employer confident that she will bring the same dedication and integrity to any household she joins.

Sincerely,

M.....o
